

1348

The Black Plague broke out in England. It killed so many serfs that the lords were short of workers.

AD1348

Block Death from Asia ravages Europe

Beginning of 1348

Black Death was in Pisa

Summer of 1348

Black Death devastated Italy
in summer of 1348

Autumn 1348

Bubonic plague spread to Paris
then to England, Ireland,
the low countries and Germany

Alfonso X was author of the Code of laws known as Las siete Partidas was officially promulgated as national law in Castile & Leon.
The ALFONSINE astronomical tables were also compiled under his direction.

1348-1349

1912 Dates J-BK

England & Scotland

BLACK DEATH.

Apr. 23, 1348

King Edward III of England established
the Order of the Garter

1348

Edward III of England created the Order of the Garter

The sudden loss of so many people to the Bubonic plague & plunged Europe into a deep crisis on nearly all fronts - economic, political & intellectual - that it would not fully recover from for a century or more. Some believed that this was mankind's final days, that nothing mattered, so they launched themselves

into orgies & feasting

1348-1349

~~Jerusalem~~

Poland & Lithuania

Immigration of Jews from Germany

1348-49

Jean-Henri

France

Black death massacre.

1348

Black Death in Europe

1348

Jan Heist

Spain

Black Death massacres

1348

ger. Hüb.

Italy

Protective bulls of Clement VI

1348-1350

Year 1450

Germany & Austria

Black Death massacres

1348

Black Death sweeps Europe
Almost depopulated Europe

1348

England

the plague of the Black Death sweeps over Europe, lasting four years.

1348-1349

The Black Death

1348

The Black Death killed a quarter of the population of Europe
(It may have been bubonic plague)

1348-1349

Bubonic plague
England

A ship brought the PLAGUE (Black Death) to DORSET Coast of England

Over the year 1349, so many people died that villages were left deserted & towns had too few inhabitants left to bury the dead. People perfectly well one day were found dead on the next.

As many as 2,500,000 people died in England. London alone lost 30,000 of its

70,000 population. Monasteries were badly but

1348

$\frac{2}{3}$ of Population of Europe was dead or sick of the Bubonic Plague

at least half the sick died.
Total of 25 million people died.

It smoldered for 300 years
and struck again.

1348-1349

The Black Death

1348

Boccaccio began his
"Decameron":

1348

It is estimated that the Black Death, striking in 1348, killed fully one-third of the Population of Europe